HOW CASE AROSE.

This case grows out of the imposition of tariff duties on goods shipped from New York to Porto Rico May 1, 1990, to October 23, of the same year under the act of April 12, 1963, providing revenues and a civil government for Porto Rico, the sum involved being $1,433. This money was collected at Porto Rico on goods shipped to that port by Doolcy, Smith & Co., to their agent in San Juan. The collections were imposed un-Juan. The collections were imposed under that section of law in question which provides that "all merchandise coming into Porto Rico from the United States shall be entered at the several points of entry on payment of the 15 per cent duties which are required to be levies, collected and paid on like articles of merchandise importon like articles of merchandise imported from foreign countries into the United States under the Dingley tariff

The contention on the part of Dooler's counsel was that the Congress had not the power, under the constitution, to impose taxes or duties such as were levied under the act of April 12 on articles taken into Porto Rican porto from other ports of the Unitedw States, Porto Rico being an integral portion of

The chief justice and Justices Harlan, Brewer and Peckham united in a dis-senting opinion in the Dooley case, which was handed down by the chief justice. They hold that the duty im-posed was export in character and the fact it was levied for the benefit of Porto Rico did not change its char-

BADGER" CASE BEFORE DIEHL

Old Court Room Packed to Its Capacity This Afternoon.

FINNEGAN TELLS HIS STORY

Relation of the Exciting Experiences In the Daft Block is Listened To By Large Crowd.

The old police court room was packed to its utmost capacity this afternoon by persons anxious to hear the evidence in the "criminal conspiracy" case against Miss Rosalind Ella Hewett, E. Parry and W. Lindstrom, who are charged with an attempt to "badger"

Hiss Hewett obtained her release yesterday, the Utah Savings and Trust company furnishing her ball, the company being secured by Dr. P. A. H. Franklin. The bond was approved by Justice Peter Lochrie.

Francis P. Finnegan out of $1,000.

When the complaint was read to the defendants, they each pleaded "not guilty." Then on motion of Assistant County Attorney Loofbourow, the court room was cleared of all except those interested in the case and the newspaper man.
The case was at once proceeded with, the first witness being Francis P. Finnegan, the man who was the alleged In response to Mr. Loofbourow's request, Finnegan related his story, saving he had been acquainted with the defendants about two months, and that ie had frequently employed Miss Hewett to do some letter writing for high. He admitted that he first made proposals of an improper nature to the He said she accepted them and said he could call at her room at 10 o'clock pam. Finnegan then stated that he had not been in the room but a short time when Perry rushed from be-hind the bed and Lindstrom came in Finnegan then stated that he offered to write a check for $30 for them but hey would not consent to it, but in-sisted that he write an order on his landlady authorizing Lindstrom to search his trunk and get the bock. "They then demanded my keys," continued Finnegan, "and I gave them the keys and told which one belonged to

Witness then went on to sag that Miss Hewett unlocked the door and as she of ened it, he grappled with one of the men and yelled "police, murder,"

Finnegan concluded his statement by saying that when he offered to pay them $30, Perry said: "No sir, you Finnegan was still on the stand when

Jim Shields continues to be welcomed back to Salt Lake City after an absence of over a year, and is being told several times a day that it is like the breaking up of a long and dreary arctic winter to gaze upon his genial face once more. Jim says the fashionable solor in gent's wear the coming spring will be in dark green effects and the same will hold true of neck wear al-go. Sacks and multary coats will be the correct thing, and the overcoats will continue to be distinguished by the Editor Edwin Allen Shermon of the Leadville Miner, and bride, are guests at the Kenyon. The Miner is a pros-perous evening paper, and Mr. Sherman in referring this morning to his journalistic career expressed a sense of relief from "that tired feeling" he experienced while previously laboring on the Herald-Democrat, a morning paper. Mr. Sherman pathetically ob-served that he discovered while on the morning daily, that working from elev-en in the morning until three the next morning and no rest Sunday or any other day, was not a thing of beauty or a joy forever. So he flitted onto evening newspaper work and now sees something in life to enjoy. The result is that the morning paper never keeps its local help for any alarmingly long time, it being merely a question of physical endurance before a man throws up his job and lets in a novitiate who in turn has his fill of the work and he in turn quits for some other victim. Mr. Sherman says Leadville is a trifle dull at present, owing to the high prices of the smelter trust and the surfelt of sulphide ores. How ever, there is a little hope in the ex-pectation of independent smelters being built at Salida and Robinson, which will bring the combine off its high perch and insure the consumption of more ore. Mr. Sherman says that Colo-rado will undoubtedly go Republican next fall, a change that was foreshadowed at this fall's county elections. He says Teddy is making such an acceptable President and Bryanism is being so rapidly relegated to the background that the demo-popoeracy is steadily losing power in the Centennial state. Mr. and Mrs. Sherman are enoying their sojurn in Salt Lake City ery much. W. E. Gilbert, the well known travel ing man from Los Angeles, is at the Kenyon, after an eastern trip. H says the banks are all puzzled over th slump in stocks, especially the fall in coppers, while they do not know what to make of it, except that the situation is unfavorable only temporarily. Mr. Gilbert says the calendar and handlers in printing novelties and fancy designs are not selling as many goods as they were last year. This also is a puzzler as people have as much money, but somehow, are not as much inclined to spend it as they were a year ago.

SUES FOR SIX SHARES.

Urban Picknell Brings Action Against the Salt Lake Dramatic Association.

Asks for 8600 and $90 Damages - Number of Suits Filed at the Third District Court.

A suit to recover from the Salt Lake Dramatic association six shares of the capital stock, or their monetary equivalent-$600, was commenced today by Urban Picknell. Plaintiff also asks for damages amounting to $90, which sum he understands to have been declared as dividends on the stock during the years or 1899, 1900 and 1901.

Urban claims that the six shares in question were sold to E. M. Weller on March 14, 1891, who transferred then to him on July 21, 1893. On Nov. 1, this year Urban says that he offered to surrender to the drawagite execution the render to the dramatic association the certificate of stock endorsed by Weiler, and requested that the association is-sue him a new certificate of stock representing the six shares, which was re

Henry Eilers, Ploche Saloon Man, Makes Grave Cross Charges.

Henry Eilers, a saloon keeper of Pioche, Nev., has filed an answer and cross-complaint to his wife's suit for divorce, in which he denies that the plaintiff is or ever has been his legal wife. After specifically denying every allegation in the complaint fied by Marie K. A. Eilers, the defendant states that at the time of their marriage in 1881 plaintiff represented herself to be Annie Gehto, whereas she was then the wife of a man called Young.

Answering plaintiff's charge of cruelty Eilers says that the cruelty has been all on the part of Mrs. Eilers, who has made life a burden to him by reason of her barbarous treatment and abusive language. He says that she assaulted him on June 19 last, and threatened to kill him. Plaintiff also maliciously accused him of having improper reintions with other women, including even his own sister, and of taking indecent liberties with his own daughters. Eiler says that the woman who bears his name is insanely jealous of him and has repeatedly refused to move from Salt Lake City to Ploche, where he has been working hard for more than twenty years to pay for the home she occupies on Capitol avenue in this
